

PRS' Dual Diagnosis Services

PRS recognizes the prevalence of substance abuse disorders among those with mental illnesses. In fact, approximately 40% of our clients have co-occurring substance abuse and mental health issues.

To address these combined problems, PRS offers assessment and support through a variety of psycho-educational groups with topics ranging from independent living skills and understanding mental illness to specific groups about addiction. We work with other agencies in the county and make referrals when services beyond the scope of our program are necessary.
